

THE INVENTION CLAIMED IS:

1. A combination of a flexible sheet usable as a towel or blanket and a carrying case integral with said flexible sheet comprising:

5 a flexible, rectangular sheet having first and second ends and first and second longitudinal edges; and a flexible case openable at one end, said case having an outer surface and an inner surface, a portion of said inner surface of said case being attached to said sheet in the top portion of said sheet, [said case being adapted to permit said sheet to be stuffed inside said case for transport and storage and to receive a pillow when said sheet is deployed outside said case and said case is reversed.]

15 2. The combination of claim 1 including a slip cover pocket located at the first end of said sheet, said slip cover pocket being configured to be placed over that end of a lounge chair adapted to receive a user's upper torso.

20 3. The combination of claim 2 further including a second slip cover pocket located at the second end of said sheet, said second slip cover pocket being configured to be placed over the other end of said lounge chair.

25 4. The combination of claim 1 including at least one pocket located adjacent each of said longitudinal edges.

5. The combination of claim 4 wherein said pockets are all located substantially on said longitudinal edges and extend away from said sheet.

5 6. The combination of claim 4 wherein said pockets are all located inwardly of said longitudinal edges.

7. The combination of claim 1 wherein said case has carrying means attached to the outer surface thereof.

8. The combination of claim 7 wherein said carrying means is a strap.

15

9. The combination of claim 1 including a waterproof sheet attached to the bottom side of said flexible sheet, said waterproof sheet being substantially the same size as said flexible sheet.
